The Value of Our Forests Over $700. 000,000-Preparing For the National Grange Meeting - Other Items of Interest In Various States.

At the last annual meeting of the Massachusetts state grange a strong plea was made by State Master Ladd in his annual address for more efficient work in protecting the forests of the state, and a recommendation was made that a state forester be appointed, 'A law has been enacted to this effect and such an official has been appointed, we believe.

The forests are more valuable than any other product. By the last United States census the forest products of this country were over $700,-000,000. The next largest, corn, was $650,000,000. Without going into further details, the census shows that the forest products exceeded by more than $150,000,000 all the gold, silver, Iron. copper, lead, zinc, coal, tobacco, potatoes, barley and buckwheat put to-

GRANGE JURISDICTION.

Important Matter That Should Have Careful Attention.

The territory immediately surround ing a grange hall should not be enfamilies as live close to it and who can lager. In a case where Mr. and Mrs. A. are solicited to join grange No. 1, although living four miles from it and only one ple sincerity among his fellows. In mile from grange No. 2 and with no obstacle to prevent them from attending No. 2, it is plain that No. 2 has jurisdiction over them. Unless No. 2 is willing upon request from No. 1 to waive jurisdiction No. 1 should encourage Mr. and Mrs. A. to apply for membership in the nearest grange, No. 2 So says the Pennsylvania organ of the state grange. And we agree. Some times there is more than one grange in a township, though there should be none nearer together than four miles. But when town lines cannot form the boundary between granges it should be understood that each grange has jurisdiction halfway to the neighbor ing grange, and neither should infringe on the jurisdiction of the other

OUR SPECIAL PIANO OFFER

The department store method of merchandizing pianos has certainly struck the popular chord. The people now know that its possible to secure an instrument here at prices way below what piano dealers can offer. The reason is simple. All our fixed charges are much less, we employ no expensive canvassers, and there are a hundred and one other reasons why we can sell pianos at a less figure than any other concern in the whole state. Since our Bank street piano rooms were opened we have sold more pianos than all the other concerns in Burlington put together. We're selling them every day and some days many of them. We're going to sell more—because we have the very best $200 piano made and the price is so low that competition is entirely out of the question,
